REMOTE TRAINING SESSIONS

REMOTE TRAINING SESSIONS

Our remote training sessions prove to be more convenient and cost efficient than standard training sessions as you have a lot of flexibility. You have the convenience of taking part in these from the comfort of your home or office space limiting time wastage in traffic and expenditure for travel especially if you are located in another country or province.

Customer Specific Remote Training Sessions allow you the freedom to have the course content tailored to meet your specific needs depending on which aspects of the particular module you would like to focus on. This can be based on your usage of BarnOwl within your organization as well as any areas where you or your colleagues may be struggling.

It is also a lot safer when taking the current pandemic into consideration – It caters fully to the new ‘work from home’ environment.

Client specific training sessions are also booked at your own convenience and you have the option to be trained on a copy of your own database or on our Generic ABC database.
